

The National Hellenic Museum Online Discussion Series

With generous grant support from the Hellenic Foundation, we are presenting a free, 90-minute online class for adult learners. Join us for one or more lively and engaging discussions hosted on zoom and facilitated by NHM's Dr. Katie Kelaidis. For questions, or to schedule a special time that suits your organization, email kkelaidis@hellenicmuseum.org. We can't wait to see you on Zoom.

The Greek Story in America

While large numbers of Greeks did not arrive on America's shores until the 1890s, Greeks have been part of the American story since the first Europeans came. This class will explore the Greek story in America from those earliest days right to the present. With an attention to individual stories and their place in the great America Epic, this is not your Pappou's Greek American History.

Thursday February 3rd at 1 PM CST Register Here

Wednesday March 2nd at 5 PM CST Register Here

The Hagia Sophia: Past and Future

One of the most beautiful and controversial pieces of architecture in human history, this 90-minute lecture will explore the building's 1,500 year history. We will discuss ethnic and interreligious conflict, the importance of sacred spaces, and the preservation of cultural heritage sites.

Wednesday February 9th at 5 PM CST Register Here

Thursday, February 17th at 1 PM CST Register Here

Monday March 7th at 10 AM CST Register Here

What the Ancient Greeks Taught Us

The legacy of Ancient Greece is all around us, from our architecture to government. In this class, we will explore the legacy of ancient Greece today to better understand why the ancient Hellenic legacy still matters.

Tuesday February 15th at 10 AM CST Register Here

Tuesday March 8th at 1 PM CST Register Here

Byzantium: A Legacy

Often called "the Forgotten Empire", the legacy of the Byzantine Empire is all around us -- from the conflict in Syria to the forks on our dinner table. This 90-minute lecture will explore how the Byzantine Empire lives today and why you have never heard much about its legacy before.

Tuesday February 1st at 10 AM CST Register Here

Wednesday March 2nd at 1 PM CST Register Here

Wednesday March 30th at 5 PM CST Register Here

View all our upcoming events and classes here